Our roots were simple and uncomplicated

NOW TWO HUNDRED YEARS LATER, OUR ROOTS ARE STILL SIMPLE, BUT OUR LIVES ARE VERY COMPLICATED

Pioneer recreation was simple and limited.

Today we have limitless options to occupy our free time.

Today's architecture is large, impressive, and sometimes very beautiful

Our forefathers fought a war for freedom, and the right to follow their own destiny.

It is our struggle to continue that fight for freedom.

We have progressed further in two hundred years than our forefathers ever dared to imagine. We live with comforts and pleasures still unkown in many parts of the world. But let us not become so complacent in our lives that we lose sight of our humble beginnings. And let us not forget the thousands of people who gave their lives, so that we might preserve our heritage and traditions.

We, the staff of The Carolana 1975-76, together with students, faculty, administration and staff of the University of South Carolina at Spartanburg salute generations past who were brave, enduring, ever patient, and helped bring us this far. We pledge to carry on in that great tradition.

The school year 1975-76 saw USC-Spartanburg graduate its first senior class. Although the class was small, it represented a wide cross section of the entire student body.

The addition of more senior level courses promised larger senior classes in the future. But to the Senior Class of 1975-76, this was a milestone year. 1976 marked not only the year of the Bicentennial, but also a new era for USC-S.

This group really looks enthused at what's going on!

The main objective of the Student Government Association this year has been to help improve our relationships between the students, faculty, and the community. Students have enjoyed a variety of activities sponsored by the SGA and have had the opportunity to make suggestions as to other types of activities they would like to see offered by the S.G.A. Included in this year's programming were parties, fall sports day, a concert, homecoming, and Miss USCS.

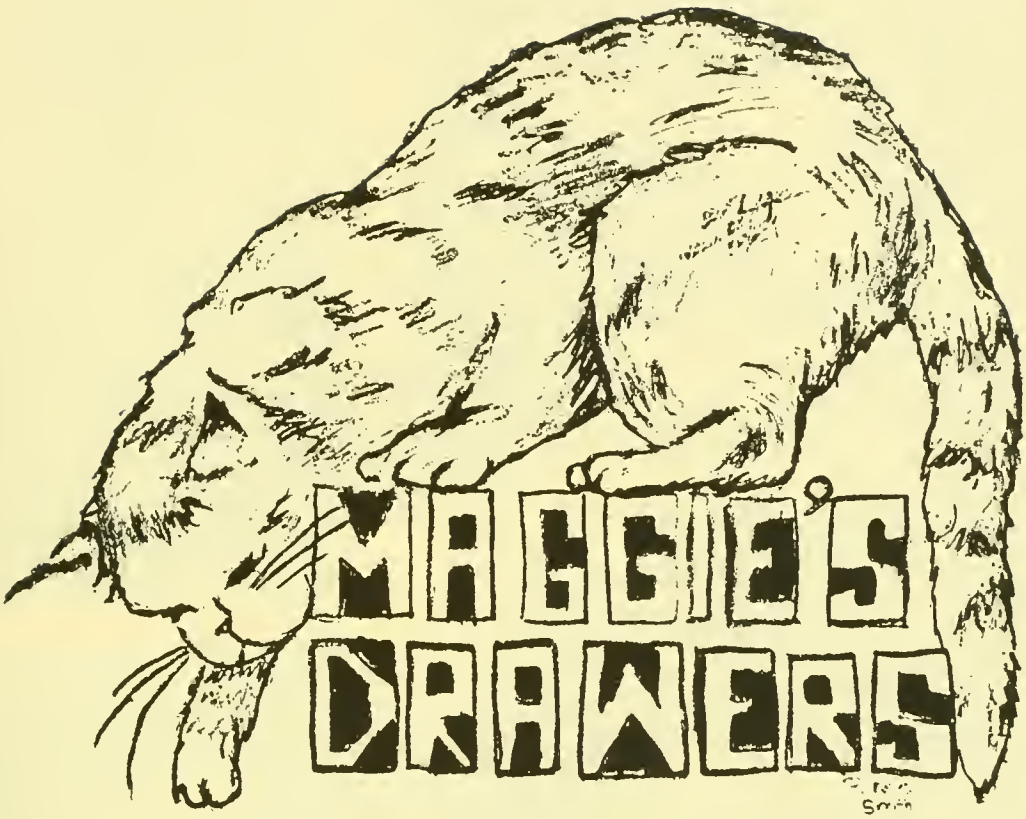

Throughout the year we have worked to improve relations with the faculty by helping them to have a better understanding of the SGA. A drop-in luncheon was given in January for the faculty in appreciation of the fine work they are doing for the students on our campus.

The Community Liaison Committee has participated in projects at the Spartanburg Girls Home and the S.C. School for the Deaf and Blind. Along with the projects the SGA sponsored a float in the Spartanburg Christmas Parade.

In general, this has been a very good year for the SGA. Now that we are a four year campus, dedicated and experienced SGA members will be more prepared to form the nucleus of the SGA in the future.

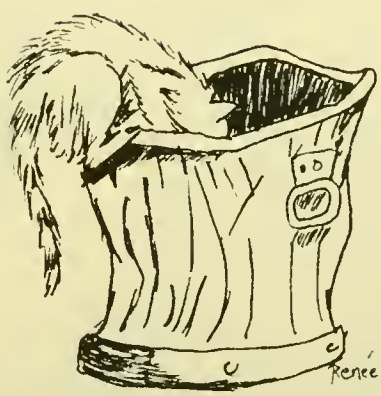

The meeting seemed to always start and end late.

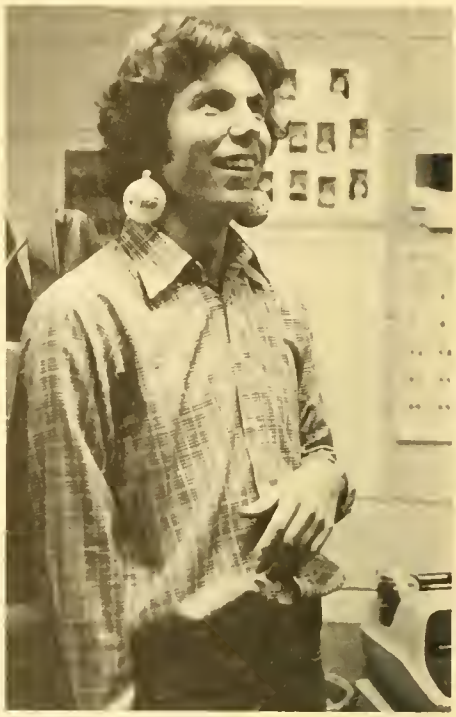

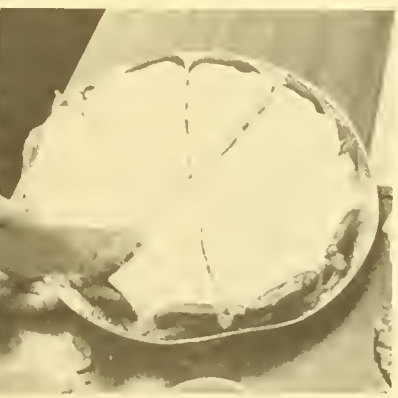

U.S.C.-S. Literary Magazine

Despite what you may be thinking, Maggie's Drawers has nothing to do with lingerie. More correctly it signifies a complete miss of the target on the rifle range. This is our own unique literary publication, containing literary and artistic selections by USC-S students.

CAROLANA 1975-76

The Carolana Staff for the year 1975-76 increased to over twenty-three members. Also the Carolana Annual increased greatly in size and in color pages. With the rush to meet deadlines, and not meeting deadlines, we still found time for fun and laughter, as these pages show.

CHORALEERS

The University Choraleers under the direction of Mrs. Lester H. Colloms are singing under the name of The Bicentennial Chorus during the '75-'76-'77 years.

Premiering the patriotic musical was the August 9 performance on Spartanburg's Main Street Mall on October 29 presenting a third command performance in the first musical presentation in the Mall. Honor came in being asked to sing at Morgan Square for the presentation of the City Bicentennial Flag on November 19.

In 1776 attire the singers represented USC-S on the SGA Christmas float. The musical was presented at Converse College on December 10 for the Spartanburg Philharmonic.

The musical was arranged for publication by Vergene Colloms from compositions of Miss Frances Hackett of USC-S and Miss Doris Wilson of Spartanburg.

Many presentations were made at civic clubs, campuses, parks, retirement homes, and other places, with a benefit show scheduled at the Spartanburg Memorial Auditorium.

UNIVERSAL LOVE

Universal Love is the most vitalizing new organization to hit the halls of USC-S. Many adventures that Universal Love offers are; hayrides, picnics, bonfires, concerts, singers and speakers, mountain retreats, masquerade parties, Christmas parties, and lots of friends.

Universal Love was formed for the entire student body, although members are given special privileges Universal Love hopes to express true Christian love and fellowship, which the young person will never forget. So that years later they can look back at their college years and remember Universal Love, and how they learned of a better and happier life through God's and friend's love.

ART LEAGUE

The function of the Art League is to explore the depths of the world of art and to further the understanding of art USC-S.

The League was organized in September of 1975 with Katie Hicks as advisor. An art exhibit of graphic works was held in September. The league also worked to boast school spirit. "Robbie Rifle", a life size basketball player, was used to announce all home basketball games. The windows at the Hodge Center were painted with the twelve days of Christmas to express and create the spirit of Christmas. The league put into operation a silk-screen printing process that well served the campus. Other activities were: parties, painting back drops for the Drama Club, designing basketball program covers, and contributing to "Maggie's Drawers."

Trips were made to several museums and art departments in Greenville, Spartanburg, Columbia, and Atlanta.

PEP BAND

Pep Band members performed at the basketball games.

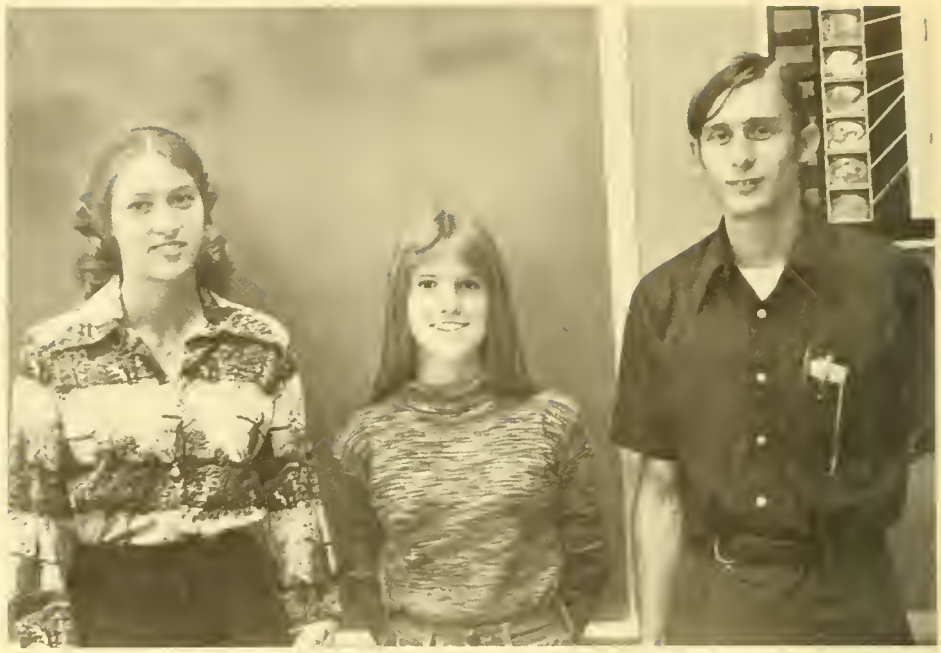

The Pep Band was established in the fall of 1974, to provide music, enthusiasm, and support for the University of South Carolina-Spartanburg Rifles Basketball Team.

Originally composed of twelve talented musicians, the Pep Band has increased in size to fifteen. You will find them performing at all home games. Come out and help support the Rifles.

OUTDOORS

The Outdoors Club seeks to help people respect and enjoy nature by introducing it to them in various ways such as rock-climbing, caving and backpacking. The club has sponsored eight climbing trips to Looking Glass and Table Rock, N.C. There have been two caving trips to Tennessee, one to West Virginia and three backpacking trips. Safety and responsibility are always stressed, particularly on the climbing trips. The participation of any student, faculty or staff member is always welcome. Instructions and equipment are provided for beginners.

GUN CLUB

President: David McDaniel Secretary-Treasurer: Wayne Beard

The USC-S Spartan Rifles Gun Club, formed in late 1974, has been one of the most active clubs on campus. It has sponsored eight skeet shoots and three rifle shoots during 1975 and 1976.

One of the primary purposes of the club was to teach beginning shooters safe, correct procedures and responsibility in handling firearms. Approximately twelve totally inexperienced persons have been introduced to firearms in such an atmosphere, while a total of over fifty people have become more acquainted with shooting as a group activity. With the exception of strict emphasis on safety, the club's activities are conducted in an informal, relaxed manner. Any USC-S student, faculty, or staff member is welcome to join the club. The only requirements are a responsible attitude and a willingness to learn and comply with proper gun safety rules.

SPARTANBURG ENGINEERING SOCIETY

The purpose of this organization shall be to afford an opportunity for Engineering students to become acquainted with each other, to promote a feeling of professional brotherhood among them, and to acquaint them with topics of interest to engineers through the media of field trips and addresses by successful engineers and fellow chapter members.

STUDENT NURSES ASSOCIATION

President: Lynn Gunter, Vice-President: Sarah Hunt

The Student Nurses Association is an organization comprised of students in nursing who are interested in activities outside the classroom. During the school year of 1975-76, projects were carried out that involved the pediatric ward at the hospital, older persons in nursing homes, and collecting for the heart fund.

All these activities are carried out by the SNA, and our only aim is to bring some cheer and happiness to the lives of other people, especially to those who are sick or in a nursing home.

VETERAN STUDENT LEAGUE

The Veteran Student League is a veteran oriented campus organization designed to promote student fellowship and aid students in the common goal of education, good citizenship, and community service.

Since the organization's inception in the fall of 1973, the VSL has accomplished its objectives by playing an active role in community and school projects. Last year the Veteran Student League sold movie tickets, participated in the Goodfellows Christmas Project, sponsored a school dance for the student body; a picnic for the retarded citizens at Whitten Village, and manned a Veteran's Information Table during registration. The VSL has also worked with the March of Dimes and the American Cancer Society.

During the 1975-76 school year, the Veteran Student League had on its Accomplishment List the following: two school parties, continued support for the Goodfellows Christmas Project, and two visits to Whitten Village — one in the fall and another in the spring.

Although veteran oriented, the VSL is open to all students at USC-Spartanburg, and looks forward to the next school year with the support of its members and other interested parties.

BLACK STUDENT UNION

The Black Student Union was established by students of USC-S in January 1974 with its key aims being to improve and maintain harmonious interracial relationships within the school, to provide a closer and more unified spirit and to promote responsibility and individuality. To be accepted as a member of the BSU, each individual must be a student at U.S.C.-Spartanburg.

The B.S.U. has planned various projects for the upcoming year, including parties for the student body, a community project and Black Week. The B.S.U. welcomes new members and hopes for your support.

Who am I, what am I doing?

Squatter's rights honored here.

Long lines, closed sections, conflicting course schedules, all these and more meet us every time we go through the bi-annual ordeal called registration. Sometimes we even wonder whether it's worth it, but somehow we manage to make it through every time. Someday though we hope to actually get the schedule we want. All in all everyone does a good job in what can be a very frustrating job for students and administration alike.

MISS USC — SPARTANBURG

SUSAN ANN WOOD

The Miss USC-S pageant is not just another one of those "campus beauty contests." Miss USC-S is chosen not on beauty alone, but on characteristics which combine to form the complete person. Fifty percent is based on school participation and spirit; fifteen percent is based on personality; fifteen percent is based on academic excellence; and twenty percent is on beauty. The girl chosen each year is selected to represent the entire student body and exemplify the spirit of USC-S. Miss USC-S for 1975-76 is Susan Ann Wood, seen at left in costume celebrating the bicentennial. The Editors and staff of the 1976 Carolana congratulate Miss Wood on her all around excellence which made her so deserving of this title.

WOMEN'S VOLLEYBALL TEAM

The USC-S Lady Rifles Volleyball team closed their disheartening season of 0-16 with a glimmer of hope as they took a game from Benedict College in the SCAIAW State Volleyball Tournament, held November 14-15 at Francis Marion College with twelve participating teams. Benedict College, like USC-S, fielded its first women's varsity volleyball team this year. The tourney winner was College of Charleston, winning eight consecutive games over the two day period, with Winthrop College taking second place honors.

Participants this season for the Lady Rifles were Janice Allen, Beth Burgess, Beth Rogers, Pam Howard, Christana McKissick, Debby Smith, Vickie Plazico, Kim Maybury, Cathy Simmons, and LuAnn Cleary. Each of these girls has three years of remaining eligibility, and the team expects improvement with experience, as this was their first exposure to competitive power volleyball.

We hope that we can encourage more young women to participate in athletic activities at USC-S. Being a commuter college with no dormitory accommodations, it is easy for students not to be involved in "college" life. College athletics deserves your consideration because they add dimension to the academic aspect of college and sets a precedent for active life styles.

Darrell Dollar takes a practice swing.

The USC-Spartanburg in its first full year of participation finished the Spring 1975 season with a 14-8 record. This season was highlighted by victories over most of the NAIA District 6 teams played. A strong showing in the South Carolina Invitational at Hampton climaxed the season.

In the Fall 1975 season USC-Spartanburg fielded its strongest team ever. With four freshman alternating at starts with three returning lettermen, the team started slowly with an eighth place finish in the Lander Invitational and a ninth place finish in the Etowah Valley Invitational. After winning two dual meets the Rifles managed a very prestigious tenth place finish in the Furman Four Ball Tournament, finishing ahead of all teams except major NCAA schools from SEC, ACC and Southern Conference. This also marked the Rifles' first ever win over perennial golf power Wofford College.

Coaches: David Glenn and Joe Bowman.

Once upon a time, long ago and far away, the staff of Carolana 1975-76 had a dream that we could publish a book. Many times during the past year we thought we would never realize our dream. But still with all the delays, fights and never having enough pictures, our dream finally became reality. It is our hope for you — the administration, faculty, staff, and students of USC-SPARTANBURG — that we have fulfilled this dream, and given you a book, not for a year, but one that will last for a lifetime.

To err is human —

To forgive is not the policy of the annual staff!
